DISCUSSION & APPLICATION QUESTIONS

What is the significance of the Helper being promised to the disciples immediately after he has warned them of future persecution?

What similarities do we see between the Helper and Jesus? How is this a comfort to the disciples who grieve Jesus's departure? How is it a comfort to us?

What is the relationship between sin, righteousness, and judgment? How does the Spirit convict the world of these things?

What is the primary action that the Helper is said to engage in? How does this relate to Jesus as the "Word made flesh?"

How does this passage encourage us as we think about the role of the Helper in our own lives as believers in Christ?
